BASMATI SUPER LONG

Basmati Super Long 1121 is special for its longer and thinner grain, maintaining the delicious taste and aroma of Basmati. This rice has a partial steaming process, making it looser with a higher elongation and more nutritious. It is a high-quality grain appreciated for its soft texture, but also for its easily digestible characteristics.

Basmati rice is grown in the foothills of the Himalayas, in the northern India and Pakistan.

BASMATI

Long grain rice, fine and aromatic.
It has a light and dry texture.
When cooked their grains are always fluffy.

BASMATI BIO

Organic long grain rice, fine and aromatic. It has a light and dry texture. When cooked their grains are always fluffy.

JASMIN

Jasmin is a long-grain variety of fragrant rice also known as aromatic rice. Its fragrance results from the rice plant's natural production of aroma compounds. Oriente Jasmin rice is perfect for absorbing the flavours and aromas of spices. When cooked, the grains are soft, loose and with smooth jasmin fragrance.

BASMATI BROWN WHOLEGRAIN

Basmati brown rice is a fine and long grain that retains the outer layer and gives it a higher fibre content and aroma. It has a more intense flavour with nutty notes and easily results in separated and soft grains that have a firm texture.

LONG GRAIN

Oriente Long Grain is the most versatile rice. With long and loose grains, it is ideal for side dishes. Its consistent and soft texture is perfect for various types of cuisine and absorbs the flavors of condiments. It is a perfect partner for roasted, boiled and fried dishes.

LONG GRAIN PARBOILED

This rice has a natural process of steaming followed by drying, which allows to preserve most of the nutrients, namely vitamins, minerals and fiber. It is an easier rice to cook and is looser as it has a grain that is more resistant to cooking. Also ideal for keeping longer in the fridge, maintaining all the nutritional values and taste feeling.

OUR MISSION

To produce and promote the best flavors of rice, contributing to a tastier, healthier, sustainable and inspiring world.

RISOTTO

Arborio rice is the ideal rice variety to cook Risotto. With long grains, its starch is slowly released during cooking, creating a creamy broth, while absorbing the flavours of other ingredients. After cooking, the grains remain soft and firm, with an "al dente" texture, essential for a good Risotto.

PAELLA

Round grain rice. Perfect for absorbing the flavours and aromas of spices. On being cooked the grains are soft, moist, and sticky.

WHOLEGRAIN

Wholegrain rice is a fine and long grain that retains the outer layer and gives it a higher fibre content and aroma. It has a more intense flavour with nutty notes and easily results in separated and soft grains that have a firm texture.

CAROLINO | MEDIUM GRAIN

Carolino Rice is a variety of Portuguese rice, characterised by its creamy texture, ideal for absorbing the flavor of condiments. And this is the variety that best matches the traditional dishes of Portuguese gastronomy, ideal to obtain the best taste of seafood, fish, meat and other recipes much appreciated in Portugal.
